

Text: Ethics in Business

In today's competitive world, many companies are under pressure to make profits. However, focusing only on financial success can sometimes lead to unethical behavior. Business ethics is the study of what is right and wrong in the world of commerce. It helps companies act responsibly and fairly.

Ethical businesses consider the impact of their decisions on employees, customers, and the environment. For example, some companies ensure fair wages and safe working conditions for their workers. Others choose not to pollute or exploit natural resources, even if doing so would increase profits.

Unethical practices, such as false advertising, bribery, or using cheap labor in unsafe conditions, can damage a company's reputation and lead to legal consequences. On the other hand, ethical companies often gain the trust of consumers and build long-term success.

In conclusion, ethics in business is not just about following laws. It is about doing what is right—even when no one is watching. Businesses that make ethical choices contribute positively to society and the economy.

Adapted from Crane, A., & Matten, D. (2016). Business Ethics: Managing Corporate Citizenship and Sustainability in the Age of Globalization (4th ed.). Oxford University Press.

1. Identify the type of the text.

The text is... a) an extract from a book b) a speech. c) a web article.

2. Say whether the following sentences are true or false.

- a- Business ethics is only about obeying the law.
- b- Ethical businesses always put people and the environment first.
- c- Companies that act unethically can lose public trust.
- d- All successful companies are ethical.

3. Answer the following questions according to the text.

- a- What is business ethics?
- b- How do ethical businesses treat workers?
- c- What are some examples of unethical practices?
- d- Why is it important for businesses to act ethically?

4. Choose the general idea of the text.

- a- How businesses increase profits
- b- Why competition is necessary for business
- c- The importance of ethics in business

5. Find what or who the underlined words in the text refer to.

- a) it (§1)
- b) their (§ solution

1. Identify the type of the text

The text is: a. an extract from a book

2. Say whether the following sentences are true or false

- a. False
- b. True
- c. True
- d. False

3. Answer the following questions according to the text

- a. Business ethics is the study of what is right and wrong in the word of commerce. It helps companies act responsibly and fairly
- b. Ethical businesses consider the impact the impact their decisions on employees, customers, and the environment. For example, some companies ensure fair wages and safe working conditions for the workers
- c. False advertising, bribery, or using cheap labor in unsafe conditions. (2 are enough)
- d. Ethical companies often gain the trust of consumer and build long-term success

4. Choos the general idea of the text

- c. the importance of ethics in business

5. find what or who the underlined words in the text refer to

- a. It = the study of business ethics
- b. their = some companies